BRIEF PRESENTATION

Gabriele D'Amore is an Italian civil engineer and entrepreneur working between Rome, London and New York City. He operates in the construction sector, specializing in the design and delivery of residential and commercial buildings of all sizes, from minor maintenance works to full refurbishments and new-build projects.

He has worked independently since 2005, primarily within the private real-estate sector, and operates in Italy and internationally through several companies he owns, based in Rome, London and New York. He has completed over 150 projects as both designer and contractor.

Adopting a multidisciplinary approach and working in close collaboration with a diverse professional team, he continuously seeks innovative solutions that combine aesthetics, functionality and energy efficiency.

He pays close attention to regulatory compliance, advanced materials and overall quality, overseeing every detail from design through to execution.
